March 2014

Happy Spring!

Here at Sundance we have been gearing up for another great season. Our Landscaping team is already back at work and our Maintenance team is scheduling spring cleanups. The Garden Center is now OPEN and ready to help with all your garden prep and planning needs. And things have been busy at Sundance by Design as we are moving and expanding to a bigger, brighter space! We are moving right across our parking lot into the space vacated by High Country Treasures.

We are looking forward to seeing you again and helping you achieve all your landscaping, gardening, and outdoor living goals and dreams!

Linda's Garden Center Tips:

Do robins come to your garden to dine in the spring?? If not, you may want to enrich your soil. If you did not amend your soil in the fall, it's not too late to do so this spring. Sundance has all organic soils and composts to ensure happy gardens. It is also time to plan vegetable gardens. Sundance carries "Untreated NON-GMO" seeds, arriving the first week of March.

Certified organic seed potatoes and onion sets will arrive the beginning of April. Sow some wildflower seed now, and let Mother Nature do most of the work.

Early Bird Garden Center Specials:

All soils, compost, barks, and mulches are 20% off thru March 31st. Stock up now!!

High Altitude Grass Seed 10% off thru March 31st.

Order 2# or more of Applewood Wildflower Seed and get 20% off your order thru March 31st. Place an order with Linda at 303-670-0358

We are so excited to see you again and show you our new space and new lines!

We had a very successful buying trip to Atlanta and will have many new fountains as well as fun, funky, and interesting garden accents and accessories. Our actual move is this week, so we will be remodeling, unpacking, and setting up until mid March. So, if you don't mind the mess, and you are in the area, stop on in and say HI! Our official re-opening is scheduled for early April.

Our new address is 27945 Meadow Drive, in with our wonderful new neighbor STEMS.
